Steven Hawking

Last week the world lost an amazing scientist. We read lots of quotes about looking at feet and stars and the curious mind. One poignant message I would like to share is him saying.

“Everything I expected was reduced to zero when I was twenty. Everything since then has been a bonus.” Steven Hawking

Stephen Hawking had an amazing life, achieved unbelievable science despite his illness. We can all take a little of his determination to make sure we achieve our goals and aspirations, carpe diem (seize the moment).
